The Downton Era - the start of modern Britain A talk by Katharine Collett

Tuesday 4 April 7:30pm
Cyprus Hall, Cyprus Rd, Burgess Hill, RH15 8DX

Have you visited Highclere Castle? Would you like to know what the "Downton Era" was really like?

Katharine's talk will give you just that. The talk includes interesting insights into the period from 1910 through to 1925. Including the start of the modern working women, the birth of modern communications and development of modern entertainment. Katharine illustrates the talk with sound clips, songs from the era and hats! Songs include "I'm forever blowing bubbles" and "won't you come home Bill Bailey".

FREE for RBL Women's Section Burgess Hill members.
Visitors £3 on the door. All welcome!

Refreshments are available to purchase and there is also a raffle (50p per ticket). Donations to the raffle are welcomed.
