Message from the Mayor

After eight years of being a Town Councillor it is a privilege to be the Chairman of the Town Council and to serve as your Mayor.

Our town has many challenges. An enthusiastic group of Town Councillors was elected in May; they face many opportunities in reinvigorating the town. We must listen to our citizens and although we cannot make promises, we are ready to work hard.

The Town Council is pleased to offer grants to local groups to help sustain their activities.

A positive initiative is the possibility of reinstating Park Centre as a community hub.

Every second and forth Saturday from 10am to 12pm your Councillors are at the Help Point. Come by, meet us and talk about the problems and your hopes for the town.

Great journeys begin with single steps.

Burgess Hill Town Mayor, Janice Henwood

Here Comes the Sun

Following the popularity of our front cover competition last issue, we once again opened to your submissions. Our bright and summery winning image for this issue was taken by local photographer Archie Tipple.

You will also find some of the runner up images inside. We received a great quality of submissions – if you would like to be featured in an upcoming issue, email communityteam@burgesshill.gov.uk.

With some changes in Councillors after the elections in May, make sure to check your Ward Councillor's contact details on Page 10.

As we head into the Summer, there is plenty to keep you entertained in Burgess Hill. Read on for details of upcoming Town Council Events, local Market Life, and the Tourist Information Centre inside the Help Point.

All of these activities could not run without your support – thank you to everyone who helps build our Burgess Hill community.

Enjoy your Summer!

Celebrate 30 Years of Batchelors Farm

Join us on Saturday 19 August for a community picnic in celebration of 30 years of Town Council ownership of Batchelors Farm.

The nature reserve comprises 33 acres, and was purchased by the Town Council for the enjoyment of residents – and what better time to enjoy it than at our celebration event!

Pack a picnic and come on down.

The event will be held in the top field, by the Water Tower, from 11am – 3pm, and we will be officially opening our brand-new community orchard.

We can't wait to see you!

Please note that there is no parking for the event, and that the site is only accessible on foot.

Wowzer Wednesday to open with Burgess Hill Community Crafters Market

August's Wowzer Wednesday series will open with a drop-in craft session funded by the Burgess Hill Community Crafters Market! Created to bring together local crafters, the Market gives them an opportunity to showcase their passion for handcrafting, whilst fostering community spirit. The Market is a brilliant opportunity to support local, small businesses, with the profits from table hires going back into the community – Wowzer Wednesday will be their first funded event!

Come and join the Burgess Hill Community Crafters Market as they kick off Wowzer Wednesday on 2 August! Their fantastic children's crafting session will be running in Church Walk from 11am – 1pm.

If you would like more information on the Crafters Market itself, please email bhillccmarket@gmail.com.

Halloween Trail 2023

It's time to get spooky with the Halloween Trail. Running from 23 – 27 October, the trail will take children around the town centre, following a ghostly tale... and supporting our local businesses!

The Halloween Trail follows the success of the Easter Trail, which saw over 200 children take to the town centre in search of Bramble the Bunny – we can't wait to see how many take part this time around.

Every child that enters the trail will receive a prize, and be entered into our prize draw. All you have to do is collect your trail map from the Help Point, follow the clues around the town and return your completed form to the Help Point to claim your prize!

A Market Life

Nestled at the foot of the South Downs you will find the historic Market Town of Burgess Hill. In its heyday, Burgess Hill was known for its thriving market. In more recent years, people are familiar with it as a popular, fast expanding commuter town.

Post pandemic, Burgess Hill Market on Church Walk once again provides residents and visitors with the ability to shop locally from independent businesses and traders.

One such trader is French bakery stall La Boulangerie Du Marché. They attend weekly, Wednesday – Saturday, selling a mouth-watering array of fresh bakes and wonderful products such as Marseille soap, lavender from Provence and Brittany onions. You will also find locally sourced produce, including organic eggs from The Mac's Farm.

Gilles Haumont, proprietor, says 'I really love trading here; there's such a buzz every day. After many years exhibiting at events countrywide we were looking for something nearer to home; Burgess Hill was perfect with its friendly clientele that appreciates quality. The Town Council being so supportive and proactive has also been great!'

Answering the local need for a fishmonger is Joni's Fresh Fish, there every Friday. 'Our fish is sourced daily from trusted suppliers and day boats from Lowestoft as well as Billingsgate Fish Market.' Owner Joni, 'prides himself on buying what's in season, ensuring the very best produce every time.'

Newly established business Rosie's Brews & Bites, here every Friday and Saturday, serve locally roasted, organic barista coffees alongside an array of additional beverages. Treat yourself to a variety of delicious homemade pastries including sausage rolls, cheese straws, vegan rolls and a selection of sweet treats. 'Since beginning trade in Burgess Hill, I've been overwhelmed by the support received from local residents. I aim to cater for intolerance diets, whilst also still keeping my prices affordable in the current climate. There is nothing that I love more than knowing I have made a difference to someone's day with a simple conversation and a great coffee.'

Burgess Hill Tourist Information Centre

The Help Point is also the home of the Tourist Information Centre, where the team prides itself on their extensive knowledge of the local area. The team has been working hard to increase the already wide variety of brochures and ensure they have something for everyone; from hiking trails such as the Centurion Way to museums and farms.

Situated on the railway line between London and Brighton and at the very foothills of the Southdowns National Park (the newest and sixth largest national park in the UK), the Tourist Information Centre is in a prime position to support tourism in the local area and beyond. They are also renovating their website and social media with even more information and ideas for family days out.

From the array of Norman castles like Arundel and Hastings to the beautiful gardens of Borde Hill and Leonardslee, there really is something for everyone. Here at the Burgess Hill Tourist Information Centre we can offer a treasure trove of information on all things Sussex!

Town Council Support the Swifts

In the last issue of About Town we heard from the Burgess Hill Swift Supporters.

On Friday 26 May, Burgess Hill Town Council demonstrated their support for the project, and to the environment, by having a swift box installed on the Council building. Members of Burgess Hill Swift Supporters and Chairman of the Grants Panel, Councillor Matthew Goldsmith, were in attendance to see the box's installation.

If you'd like a nesting box or have seen swifts nesting near you, please let Burgess Hill Swift Supporters know: mileves@aol.com.

Effective crime-reducing tool launched in Burgess Hill

A new information-sharing tool for local businesses has been launched in Burgess Hill to help police, retailers and security staff tackle crime more effectively together.

The smartphone app, called 'DISC', is already used in parts of East Sussex as well as over 550 town and city centres across the UK. It has now been rolled out to retailers in Burgess Hill, Haywards Heath and East Grinstead with more areas in Sussex being offered DISC in the coming months.

The app, funded by Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner and the Mid Sussex Partnership is being offered to businesses free of charge. It is a secure, online information-sharing system that allows retailers who are signed up, to share news, information and intelligence, including images and the times offenders were last seen.

The app allows users to alert one another as well as swiftly report crimes as they happen to the police. So far, over 100 businesses have signed up to the DISC app in Burgess Hill in their bid to tackle retail crime and anti-social behaviour within the town.

Pictured with Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner Katy Bourne are various business owners and business organisations from across Burgess Hill, Town and District Council Officers and the local neighbourhood Policing Team.

Ditchling Common

Bordering Burgess Hill, Ditchling Common is a diverse Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI).

The Common has a long history of human interference and utility. The land has been grazed for hundreds of years and also used for fishing, collecting firewood and leisure activities.

Today, this Country Park hosts many birds and insects. The nightingale can be heard singing in the spring in the scrub along the upper margins above the pond. Warblers, tits, linnets and finches are present in significant numbers. The buzzard and the red kite are now seen on a daily basis. The butterflies have increased remarkably here in recent years.

The commoners still manage the area south of Folders Lane, leasing the land to a local farmer who maintains the land following a management plan approved by English Nature. The new management plan has been successful in restoring the flora of the grassland and boggy areas here.

The Common is maintained by appropriate management that, if neglected, will rapidly lead

Anemone Nemorosa, photographed on Ditchling Common to loss of diversity. The Ditchling Beacon and Commons Trust's aim is to maintain and improve the management of the land for the benefit of everyone. The Trust aims to maintain this wonderful common-land for future generations, including increasing the number of people who use the land. Burgess Hill Heritage and History Association

Launches New Website

Our new website, designed by D'Avray Web Design and generously illustrated from our photo collections, will go 'live' in July. It contains new angles on Burgess Hill's origins and its history.

The website's purpose is twofold. First, it shows how the land on which Burgess Hill stands was home for 800 years or more to a rural community of farmers and craftsmen with, from the early 1500s, brickmakers working in small rural yards. In 1850, by 'Parliamentary Enclosure' of the large pasture common at our heart, we had become a hub of industrial-scale brick, tile and pottery making. Yet we had more than raw industry. Our new 'parish', created in 1863, soon became a lively Victorian town. From West Street to Worlds End, Folders Lane to Fairplace Hill, local people pitched in to fund or build churches, chapels and schools and to set up emergency services, local government, social and sports clubs and other activities for their community. Much of the housing of that era, for incoming workers or for richer residents, still exists. It is part of our built heritage.

Our second aim concerns the loss of too many good buildings of all ages, from 16th-century farmhouses to the 20th-century Martlets Hall. We want those that still stand to be valued and built around, not razed to the ground. We hope that the new website will widen people's engagement with our history and heritage, and that more will join with us and help preserve it.

Our website relates to our activities, our collections and our goals, as well as our history. If any of this whets your interest, there are upward of 20 further articles on the topics covered. Just follow the links on the website to learn more.

At several points in Burgess Hill's story, local and national history interconnect. For example: Henry VIII's Reformation of 1536-1545 when we lost our 'Chapel of St. John'; the rise of non-conformist worship; the Poor Laws and how they affected our area; improvement of roads and transport; not to mention Parliamentary Enclosure itself, promoted as a 'Good Thing' but often resisted locally. How did we fit into the national scene? We hope that, for the town's school children, being able to link Burgess Hill's story to the wider world might make history lessons seem more relevant – or with luck, perhaps even interesting! The Town Council has provided a Minor Grant to contribute towards the costs of the website set up.

Shed Loads of Fun

Burgess Hill Shed recently ran a STEM day for kids and families. The idea came from visits to Techniquest in Cardiff, a great place to explore the world of Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths (STEM) through exhibits and hands-on activities.

The aim was to run a downsized version of Techniquest which would be entertaining, fun and affordable. To run this pilot event, BH-Shed teamed up with Dr Richard Robinson (from Brighton Science Festival) who has been captivating young people with his Pocket Science Funfair for many years. Some BH-Shed exhibits and activities had previously been used to support school STEM events, additional ones were provided by members and volunteers who had enjoyed successful careers in STEM fields.

As well as the Pocket Science Funfair, attractions included: Motion on the Ocean; World of Wood; Automaton Engineering; World of Steam; Bridge Building; See the Sound; Computer Controlled Machines; Natural Sciences; Pottery; Weaving and Needlework.

The event took place in The Kiln, Burgess Hill and was attended by over 100 visitors along with 30 volunteers helping on the day. Clearly there is a demand for such events and BH-Shed is now looking into increasing the number of activities and exhibits with a view to running more events during school holidays.

If you have an interest in STEM activities and want to help run or shape future events, please contact BH-Shed:
shed@bhshed.org.uk.

Tapestry Day Club

Tapestry Day Club provides high quality day support in small groups for older people living with dementia in the comfort and safe environment of our hosts' family homes.

This provides a welcome change for older people living in social isolation and respite for their carers. For many people struggling with loneliness and social isolation, large community centres can be overwhelming and create unnecessary anxiety. Through small and intimate group sizes, we aim to give people the time and space to feel at ease, flourish, form lasting friendships and feel valued.

Our days include refreshments, optional activities, a two-course lunch and transport. We have a host running her days every Tuesday supporting families in the Burgess Hill area.

Please get in touch by email on support@tapestrydayclub.co.uk or call us on 01403 791020.

Family Fun Sessions

On Tuesday 4 April, Burgess Hill Town Council working together with The King's Church, welcomed families of children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) to the Family Fun Sessions.

The King's Church organised a selection of arts and crafts tables and sensory tables. Alongside bulb planting, circus equipment and a giant train track, there was plenty to keep the whole family occupied! The library also provided a sensory story time to the attendees, with Jenny Fisher teaching Makaton alongside. Staff from the Early Help Team and West Sussex Libraries also provided advice and support to the parents/carers.

The event was funded by The Budding Foundation, who also donated bulbs, pots and compost for the bulb planting activity.

The next Family Fun Sessions will be held on Tuesday 8 August, if you would like to be notified of when bookings go live, please sign up to the mailing list www.burgesshill.gov.uk/town-community/town-events/events-mailing-list

Age UK Helpline Appeal

Age UK West Sussex, Brighton & Hove's Information and Advice helpline is currently under threat as funding cuts, the cost of living crisis and a drop in donations have all impacted on the service for older people. Due to increased demand, the charity is unable to keep up with all enquiries and despite its best efforts, calls from some of the most vulnerable in the community are going unanswered.

Age UK West Sussex, Brighton & Hove (WSBH) is launching a fundraising appeal to help give older people a lifeline through this crisis. The lifeline appeal aims to support the charity and cover the cost of employing more specialist advisors. As little as £5 or £10 will help staff the phones, supporting callers with their worries, concerns or queries. £50 will help provide tailored training for an advisor, enabling them to respond to some of the most common appeals for help.

The Information and Advice Team provides great value for money. For every £1 spent on the team, the charity is able to access approximately £18 in benefits/grants for older people.

Advisers on the helpline can provide up to date information and advice on a whole range of topics, not just financial matters. Housing needs, finding help at home, health and social care, family and personal matters, leisure and social activities, plus advice for carers is all covered.

Older people who need support can contact the helpline by calling 0800 019 1310, lines are open 9am – 2pm, Monday to Friday.

Age UK WSBH is relying on donations to help as many people as possible right now. Donations to the Age UK WSBH Lifeline Appeal can be made by telephone on 0800 019 1310 or by visiting www.justgiving.com/campaign/Lifeline-Appeal

Thank you so much for your support.

An Update from Burgess Hill District Lions Club

The Burgess Hill District Lions have had a very busy few months with new members and community events.

Burgess Hill District Lions were out in the community taking part in the town's St George's Day Celebrations on Saturday 22 April. It was great to be out in town, in the sunshine, meeting and greeting so many people.

The Town Council's Coronation Big Lunch was supported by members, making sure the entertainment acts were in the right place at the right time, and collecting donations from the audience. All monies raised went to the Motor Neurone Disease Association charity.

The Lions celebrated our 68th Charter on 13 May. We hosted a dinner at Singing Hills Golf Club for Lions and esteemed guests. Among the guests were fellow Lions from Brighton, Billingshurst and Horsham. At the Charter, Lion John Gee was awarded with his 15 years of service chevron.

The Burgess Hill District Lions Club welcomed a new member in May. Lion Debby Machin has been a regular volunteer in our Book Shop for over a year and we are thrilled to have her on board. Lion Debby will be joining recently inducted member Lion Graham to work on our young people in service projects.

Our Book Den in Burgess Hill is our main fundraising project. The book shop is incredibly popular and it provides the club with the funds needed to support local causes.

Lion Debby is the second new member since Christmas and the fourth in the last twelve months. Our club, one of the largest in the country, has been actively recruiting new members and is growing steadily.
